SAN FRANCISCO NEEDS THE MONEY

THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE THIS MORNING RECEIVED A CABLEGRAM FROM THE RELIEF COMMITTEE IN SAN FRANCISCO—HAS PLANNED USE OF ALL OUTSTANDING FUNDS—WILL GRATEFULLY RECEIVE THE SAME.

The following cablegram was received by the Chamber of Commerce this morning relating to the inquiry sent by that body to James D. Phelan in San Francisco asking if a portion of the Relief fund still in the hands of the Relief Committee here could be spared by the Committee there.

San Francisco, November 12. Chamber of Commerce, Honolulu, T. H. Have written to Morgan, Honolulu. Committee has planned use of all outstanding funds for benefit of sufferers of disaster. Will gratefully receive of your balance. If you desire specific use of part, advise us.

(Signed) JAMES D. PHELAN.

The receipt of the foregoing cablegram puts a close to the argument that any portion of the Relief fund could be used to bring the band home as the Relief Committee here decided that should the money be needed in San Francisco that it was beyond their power to divert any portion of it.

It is now up to the people of this city to raise the money with which to pay the home passage of the Hawaiian Band if it is shown that they are actually in need.

There will probably be another meeting of the Merchants' Association and of the Trustees of the Chamber of Commerce to talk over other plans for the relief of the band.

James F. Morgan has been communicated with and asked to ascertain the situation the band is in at present. The following cable was received from him this morning by L. Tenney Peck in answer to the one forwarded to him yesterday.

San Francisco, 6:30 p. m. L. Tenney Peck, Honolulu.

The Relief Committee has cabled to the Chamber of Commerce. I am getting particulars of band situation.

(Signed) JAMES F. MORGAN.

Aside from the cablegram to Mr. Morgan, Mr. Peck forwarded the following letter on board of the S. S. America Maru:

TERRIBLE MIXUP WITH A NAME

DORA LANCASTER ON TRIAL BEFORE JUDGE DOLE TODAY ON A CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

Dora Lancaster was on trial before U. S. Judge Dole this morning in a charge of bigamy. Dora is a notorious frill. She is defended by I. Noar and Charles A. Long. U. S. Attorney Breckons is prosecuting. The case is being tried before a jury.

The girl is charged with having married one J. Zoch on May 26, 1903 and to have married Max Puders on July 22, 1905 with the formality of a divorce or the death of her first husband.

There is a confusion of the name of the first alleged husband in the marriage license, marriage certificate and record of marriage, the man's name appearing as Julius Zoch, then Julius York then Julius Yock. The case is being contested with frequent technicalities. A recess until 2 o'clock this afternoon was taken this morning.

MAUI PREPARING FOR LEGISLATURE

COMMITTEES OF CITIZENS OF WAILUKU TO MAP OUT WISHES AND NEEDS OF ISLAND.

Senator-elect W. J. Coelho of Maui is well satisfied with the outlook for his island in the next legislature. There is a movement on foot in Wailuku and elsewhere on Maui to appoint committees from among prominent Maui citizens for the purpose of preparing matters for legislation.

Several important matters are under discussion and Wailukans have in mind the submission of ideas which will benefit the whole Territory as well as Maui.

Pending the appointment of these committees and the consequent expression of the will of the Maui people the Honorable W. J. Coelho is not discussing the things which will be required by Maui.

GILMAN GIVEN FULL POWER

The Board of Immigration met this morning and elected J. A. Gilman assistant secretary and made him an executive officer so that he could have full power to act when the Saverio arrives with the immigrants from the Azores.

J. P. Cooke resigned as Secretary and J. J. Carden was elected in his place.

When J. P. Cooke leaves for the south he will leave his resignation in the hands of the Governor so that it can be accepted at any time should such a course be necessary to obtain a unum of the board.

MARINE BARRACKS CERTAINLY NEEDED

MAJOR RUSSELL SAYS MARINES MUST WAIT UNTIL SITE OF NAVAL STATION IS DETERMINED.

Major Russell, in charge of the United States Marines whose barracks are at the naval station in this city, was seen this morning in reference to the following report of General Elliott, commandant of marines, which report has just been issued in Washington:

"The marines are quartered in an old building at this (Honolulu) station known as the 'Coal Shed,' which has been equipped as far as possible for temporary occupancy. If the department decides to maintain this naval station a modern barracks should be provided, the estimates being withheld until a definite conclusion on the subject of the site of the naval station in the Hawaiian Islands is decided by the Navy Department."

"We certainly need barracks," said the Major, "but there can be nothing done toward the erection of proper barracks until it is decided whether the naval station is to be established here or at Pearl Harbor. This same report was made two years ago when we first went into these barracks in the coal shed."

WHERE IS JOE?

Up to 1:30 p. m. today no reply had been received by Governor Carter from Joe Cohen. Evidently the cable company is having trouble in locating the band or else Cohen is figuring how he stands. Or some thing else has prevented his replying. But he will probably reply as soon as he can.

A FREAK VESSEL ARRIVES

EVERETT C. GRIGGS WAS FORMERLY A BARK—UNDER TWO FLAGS—FIERY CROSS ARRIVES.

Sails are beginning to show in the harbor again and the steamships have it not entirely to themselves. This forenoon the Norwegian bark Fiery Cross, Captain Clanssen, was reported, 78 days from Newcastle with coal and by 12:30 this afternoon she was docked.

Yesterday evening the great six-masted barkentine Everett C. Griggs, Britisher, arrived, 66 days from Newcastle. Both vessels experienced heavy seas and head winds. The Griggs was formerly the Lord Welsely, a four-masted bark. This is her first trip here under barkentine rig. The Griggs was built 24 years ago by Harland & Wolff, Belfast. For about 15 years she was under a British flag, when she was dismantled in a storm and sold as a hulk to a German house. She flew the German flag about five years and then went back under the British colors. Captain Clanssen commands her.

ATTACKING THAT BAND INDEMNITY

COL. JONES MARSHALS PHALANX OF TERRITORY TO CAPTURE 3000 PLUNKS OF INDEMNITY.

The Territorial Government is charging like a Macedonian phalanx on the redoubts of the security company and the backers of Cohen and the band to recover on that $3,000 bond. Colonel Jones is leading the charge and the gallant militia officer proposes to capture the reserve chest of the ill-starred expedition.

The demand for the indemnity bond was made yesterday. The security company sent a hurried cable to ascertain what the dickens was the matter and what it all meant.

But Colonel Jones in the role of the Great Grant, before Fort Donaldson, declares it is to be a case of "unconditional surrender." The backers of that bond are probably howling like the other American immortal, Lawrence, "don't give up the dough."

But Colonel Jones declares, and he has Attorney General Peters back of him, that the dough or the musical instruments loaned the band, must be produced. It appears that the musical instruments taken by the band belonged to the United States Government and were loaned to the band as a part of the militia. Before he would consent to the band taking the instruments, Jones insisted that a bond of indemnity to insure the safe return of the instruments by September 30 be given. This was done, six men including Cohen going on the surety.

The indemnity bond is a stiff enough proposition. It was so drawn up by Attorney General Peters. The instruments have not been returned on September 30, the limit, and now the militia authorities have demanded the fulfillment of the bond.

It is more than probable that the backers of the indemnity bond will try to get an extension and

NEVADAN SIGHTED SHERIDAN

MAKING 150 MILES A DAY UNDER TOW OF BUFORD AND SLOCUM. DYNAMITE ON NEVADAN.

Something over three hundred miles on her voyage to San Francisco out of this port the U. S. A. transport Sheridan, towed by the transport Buford and the army tug Slocum, was sighted at 4 o'clock last Sunday afternoon in longitude 24:12 north and latitude 153:25 west by the American-Hawaiian S. S. Nevada which arrived here from San Francisco last evening.

First Officer B. Jones of the Nevada stated today that the Sheridan was going along at a fair rate of speed, towed by the Buford and the Slocum, the latter boat leading. Everything appeared to be all right. The Nevada did not speak the fleet, not passing close enough. The Sheridan's flag was flying and there was no indication of anything wrong.

The Sheridan left for San Francisco about 4 o'clock in the afternoon of Friday the 9th instant, so she had been out about two days when she and the vessels towing her were sighted by the Nevada. She had up to that time, been getting along at a rate of about 6 knots an hour. This means about 15 days for the entire trip and the fleet may expect to reach San Francisco on the 24th instant.

The trip of the Nevada to this port was very pleasant. Included in her general cargo are 22 tons of dynamite 15 tons for Honolulu and 7 tons for Hilo. While loading the explosive at San Francisco one of the cases of dynamite was dropped down the hatch, but there was no explosion.

A couple of fine Scotch coolies were brought down for Hackett & Co. Mate Jones' splendid bull terrier pup, which was the pet of the ship, jumped overboard after the vessel was a day or two out of the Golden Gate, not that he was afraid of the dynamite aboard but that he was considerably worried by the constant squealing of the three hundred hogs brought down on deck.

There is one other feature of the case that makes the situation interesting. The instruments are U. S. Government property. Failing to produce such government property upon demand is, according to a reading of the statutes, equivalent to an admission of being guilty of embezzlement.
